Some people's guarantee are no good but a guarante with $50 00 behind it is as good as $50 00. Dean & Ratliffe in their new ad, this week make a $50 00 guarantee to sell shoes cheaper than the same shoes can be bought in the State. Their reason for reducing prices is to reduce the size of their stock. They shell the woods in the grocery and guano trade also.

At the last meeting of the Cotton Grow At the last meeting of the Cotton Growers' Association committees were appointed to investigate the importance of securing a warehouse to store cotton and to enquire into the prices and relative value of fertilizers. These committees have been at work, and, at the next meeting of the Association, which will be held on Salesday in February, will have, we understand, most favorable reports to make.

Last Monday Secretary of State Tomp-kins issued a charter to the Farmers' Losn and Trust Company of Anderson, with the following directors: R. S. Hill, Ellison A. Smythe, H. B. McGes, G. W. Evans, E. Mrs. John Hunt, nee Miss Ora Stribling, died at her hoose near Clemson College, on Sunday, 9th inst, and was burred at Richland on Monday following at Richland Church, after appropriate service conducted by Rev. R. L. Rogers. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. W. D. Stribling and was about 25 years of age. She was united in marrisge to Mr. Hunt last October. A severe attack of pneumonia was the immediate cause of her death.

The small pox scars is still the topic of most local interest here. While there is no case in this city, and has not been, vaccination has been pretty general, and nearly every one has a sore arm. In the timesntline, those who have not slready been vaccinated may do well to 'ke that necessary precaution Dr. M. L. Sharpe has been appointed by the City Council to vaccinate all persons who are not able to pay for the service. His headquarters are at the City Clerk's office.

Mrs. Nancy Kelly, widow of the late Carlos Kelly, who was killed in a battle during the war, died at the home of her son in law, Mr. John Brown, near Starr. on Tas-day, 11th inct., aged about 50 years. Her remains were interred in the Fist Rock Baptist Churchyard on the day following her death, Rev. John Herron conducting the funeral services. She had been a member of the Baptist Church for forty years. She leaves one son and a daughter to cherish her memory.

We were shown samples a few days ago of bides tanned by our friend, Mr. J. M. Dunlsp, who lives a few miles from this place. The only ingredients used were sait and alum, and the hides presented a clean appearance and were as pliable as any leather you can huv. It would be a capital idea it more of our farmers would follow the example of Mr. Dunlap and make their own leather. He will gladly give any one directions for tanning and we trust our friends will go and see him regarding it.—Honea Path Chronicle.

To-day is the anniversary of the birth-day of Gau, Robert E. Lee, and it is being observed in a fliting way throughout the South. The Robert E. Lee Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy will celebrate the occasion this evening at the Hotel Chiquola with music, adings, requtations and speaking, and the public is cordially invited to attend. "Mine host" Dickens kindly tendered the Chiquola parlors to the ladies and will assist them in making the occasion most enjoyable

To day, being the anniversary of the birthday of Gen. Robert E. Lee, is a legal hollday, and the Legislature decided on Monday to epand the day et Ciemson College. The special train conveying the honorable Representatives and Senators laft Columbia this morning at 3 o'clock, expecting to reach the College at 8 o'clock, in time for breakfast. The day will be spent in investigating the College and all of its departments, and at 3 o'clock this evening the train will return to Columbia.

The Williamstonian says: "The romor was current that a son of Mr. George Bell, who lives four inlies north of town, was suffering with smallpox. This is authoritatively denied Competent physicians have examined the case and have pronounced it to be a case of poison oak poison. This will relieve the minds of many sensationalists who are illestisfied if Williamston is behind her sinter cities even in cases of smallpox. We have no smallpox, nor do we fear for any as long as our council and board of health are alert as now."

The Bowman (Ga.) Head Light of the 13th inst. says; "A cattle buyer by name of McGes, from South Carolina, purchased some cattle from a party near Bowman Tuesday and brought them to town. It was discovered that judgments were outstanding against the cattle and Baliff Cleveland selzed them and placed them in the lot of the livery stables. McGes not liking such proceedings, armed himself with a pole, punched a hole in the fence, got possession of the cattle and escaped in the darkness. It is presumed he made a bee line for the Savannah."

Prof. J. M. Manly, Ph. D. who occuples the chair of English in Brown University. Will lecture Thursday evening, Jan. 27th, at 8 o'clock, in the Chapel of the P. M. I. Subject, Sidney Lanier. In the opinion of many competent critics, Sidney Lanier was not only the greatest poet that the South has yet produced but the greatest yet produced by America. He was also a very accomplished musician, being without doubt the greatest flute-player of his time, and his later poetry is notable for his attempt to introduce into verse some of the retnements of music. The public are invited to attend

A number of uncompleted rolls of S C. Regiments, in the Confederate service, have been placed in the hands of J. L. Mauldin, to be turned over to the proper persons for examination and correction and then to be sent in to Col. Thomas at Columbia E. C., who succeeded Gen. Fartley in the duty of getting up a correct roster of the S. C. troops in the C. S. service Mr. Mauldin still has on hand the following: Co. D., 4th S. C. Volunteers: Co. E. 1st S. C. Cavalry: Co. B. 4th S. C. Volunteers, It is all important that these rolls should be corrected and forwarded to Col. Thomas as soon as possible, and any persons who will undertake to revise them will please apply to Mr. Mauldin for them. A number of uncompleted rolls of S C apply to Mr. Mauldin for them.

The Columbia Register of last Monday says: "Representative Edwards, of Anderson, has received a letter from home stating that a case of smallpox had developed on a farm about four miles from the city. The victim is a German farm laborer and it is supposed that he contracted the disease from Greenville. The patient has been isolated and the city authorities of Anderson will take steps to prevent the introduction of the disease into the city." We have made inquiry in reference to the above statement and find that it was a false alarm. One day last week a pupil of the school in that section went to school afflicted with some sort of an eruption on his face, supposed to be chicken pox, and it frightened the teacher and other pupils, who fled to their homes. The report was soon current that the child had smallpox, and it caused some excitement in that immediate neighborhood, but it has all subsided.

President Hoffman. Vice-President St. John and Gen R T. Hoke, of the Sea board Air Line Railway, accompanied by several other railway officials, and President Blackford, of the Maryland Life Insurance Co. and Messrs Andrew D. Jones and L. L. Jackson, two of Baltimore's leading wholesale merchants, came to Auderson in a special train last Thursday evening and spent the night and a portion of the next day in the city. On Friday morning they were met by asveral of our leading citizens, who gave them a drive over the city. Messis Jones and Jackson are large stockholders in the Anderson Cotton Mills, the former being a member of the Board of Directors. The party bad been over to Atlanta attending the annual meeting of the stockholders of the S. A. L. R. R., and they came to Anderson more on a pleasure trip. All of the gentlemen were highly pleased with their stay here, if being their first visit, and spoke very complimentory of the progress and enterprise of the "Electric City."
